The Tramp.

Many people think that the tramp is simply a man out of work, willing to labor if he has a chance, and others again claim that he is more a victim of circumstances than of his own perversity. Neither of these opinions cover the case. A tramp is a man, very often a boy, who prefers vagabondage to any other business, and is generally satisfied with the wisdom of choice. Not one in fifty could not find work or say he never had a fair chance in life. Almost any day, in the summer at least the tramp can earn his keep if he is not too lazy and even in winter there are jobs he could have if he cared for them. But he hates work, and in the majority of instances confesses that he is a voluntary idler.—Bellefonte Gazette.

No Wood for Lead Pencils.

The lead pencil is one of the most common articles in every day use, and nearly 320,000,000 pencils are manufactured in this country every year. To manufacture these millions of pencils there are required 110,000 tons, or 7,300,000 cubic feet of wood, so that each day in the year 300 tons, or 20,000 cubic feet of wood are used for pencils. Since practically all of the wood is red cedar, and since the pencil industry is steadily growing, the supply of red cedar is greatly depleted; yet no substitute has been found for it. Leaving out of consideration the imported pencils, the average educated American over 10 years of age uses six pencils of home manufacture a year. Ten years ago he used less than five.

The Jamestown Exposition.

The Postoffice Department will issue one and two cent postage stamps commemorative of the Jamestown Exposition. The stamps will be rectangular in form, the one cent being green in color and the two cent carmine. The one cent stamp will bear a viguette of Capt. John Smith and the date of his birth and death—1580 and 1631. In the upper left hand corner will be a profile of Pocahontas and in the upper right hand corner a profile of Powhattan.

The two cent stamp will bear an engraving of the landing of the first settlers at Jamestown. The stamps will be placed on sale April 26th, the day of the opening of the Jamestown Exposition.

Palse Report.

Editor Press:—

I understand that some one has started a story that I had been fishing for trout and that a fish warden had returned me and that I had caught 45 trout, costing me $450 dollars and cost. Now this is a falsehood, and if the man that started that falsehood would have been half as busy as I have been this spring he would not have had time to get up a story like that. I observe the game and fish laws as good as any one in the state. Very likely some one has started this story who never pays any attention to the law himself. I understand this falsehood has been published in the Ridgway papers and some other newspapers. Please put this little item in your paper for I don't want the people to think that I am not a lawabiding citizen of Penn'a. And if any man will come before me and tell the truth and say I caught a trout this spring until the present time, I will give him the $450 that they have reported I gave the fish warden. Other papers please copy.

"My Partner" which will be presented at the Opera House on Thursday evening, April 18 for the benefit of Emporium Base Ball Club is one of the most interesting of American plays. There is not a dull moment in it, and not a dull character. All theatre goers have heard of David Belasca and the play he presents. The author of "My Partner" was a better playwright than Belasco. While Belasco depends to a great extent on certain scenic effects to carry his production through, Bartley Campbell, the author of "My Partner" carries his audience with him in a word picture so vivid the audience wait with breathless interest for the next denouement.

Work Makes Men.

Work makes men. Luck usually fails. Pluck nearly always wins. To succeed in anything one must overcome obstacles. Force and fiber are built by hardships. Grit is as necessary in the in the making of a man as gumption. Hardships are not always handicaps. Often they are helps. You will understand this better in twenty years. Meanwhile permit one who has lived that twenty years and more, to advise you in this. Hang onto your job until you are sure of a better one. Dependable boys are in demand. And no boy can be depended upon who does not finish the task he sets his hand to do. However disagreeable your work do it thoroughly. Do it better than the average boy will do it. In that way you will become to be known as a dependable boy. And mind you this: men everywhere are looking for capable, honest, gritty, dependable boys. The sooner you let people know that you are that kind of a boy, the sooner you will get a better job. And don't be in a hurrry to give up the work you already have. Be sure something better is offered. Wait awhile. Do your work well. Promotion will come. And do not envy the boy who has an easy time. You would much better pitty him. He has a good time now but some time he must "make good." With his flabby muscles and easy habits and his many wants, he stands a far poorer chance than you. Remember above all, young fellow, you are making a man of yourself.—Bellefonte Gazette.

Making Reading for the Summer Outing.

If the Summer vacation is to be spent at a farmhouse, substantial frocks of seersucker and gingham for morning wear should be provided, rather than those of a finer quality. The smaller girls will have them made in one-piece Russian blouse suits; older girls will choose sailor styles or shirt-waist suits. For afternoon these will changed for frocks of dimity or lawn made up becomingly.

At the mountain resorts the people are as a rule well-dressed though perhaps not as elaborately as those seen at seaside hotels. Morning frocks will be of brown Holland, colored linens, Scotch madras and fine ginghams. An excellent toilet for older girls given to climing is a plain gored or plaited skirt of blue denim made up on the gray side, a white madraz shirt-waist, a neat tie and a kid or linen belt. For afternoon wear nothing is prettier for girls of all ages than printed dimity.

Serge is always good for seaside wear, both white and navy blue, and a wrap will be a necessity. As a safeguard against cold, damp days, a comfortable woolen frock should be put into the truuk and rubbers should not be forgotten.—From the May Delineator.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

GOODWIN.

Ex-County Commissioner Augustus C. Goodwin, aged 73, passed away Monday night, at his residence, Rich Valley, after an illness of three years, his malady being Bright's disease. Deceased leaves three grown up children, his wife having died six years ago—viz: Mrs. D. H. Adams and Marcus A. Goodwin, of the Valley and Mrs. E. D. Stubbs, Louisville, Ky., Deceased came to this section in 1850 from New Hampshire. He was a good citizen and universally respected. He occupied many positions of trust, in which he faithfully served the people—the most important being County Commissioner. His funeral takes place to-day at two o'clock, services being conducted at Rich Valley Church by Revs Cleaver and Dow; interment in Rich Valley cemetery.

MORE.

Mrs. Charlotte More, aged 26 years, wife of Harry More, Esq, of Keating Summit, formerly of Emporium (son of the late Judge More) died at the family residence, on Sunday morning, after an illness of four days with pneumonia. She leaves a husband and two small children—one only one year old. The funeral was held at Keating Summit on Tuesday a. m., at ten o'clock and was very largely attended. Mrs. More was an excellent lady and is highly spoken of by all knew her. In addition to the large attendance of Keating Summit relatives. Thos, More and wife, of St. Marys, and Richard More and wife, of Emporium, attended the funeral. Mr. More's many Cameron county friends deeply sympathize with him.

Mr. Rishell of LaBar's undertaking establishment, directed the funeral.

Painful Injury.

Last Thursday afternoon, ex-Prothonotary C. J. Goodnough, who is Supt. of Canoe Run Coal and Coke operations, met with a serious accident while attempting to remedy a defect in some of the machinery in the elevator, situated eighty feet in the air. His gauntlet glove caught between the elevator and frame work, severely bruising his right arm and breaking some of the bones. It is a miracle that his arm was not crushed and had he not the nerve to twist his arm to a flat position as the elevator passed it would undoubtedly have been crushed. Peter O'Malley, who was with him at the time of the accident, hurried for assistance.

Dr. Smith was wired for and he made the drive in lightning speed, a distance of five miles, in twenty minutes. After his injuries were dressed he was bought to his residence at this place. We are pleased to see that he is able to be out, although carries his arm in a sling.

The Howard Coal-Tax Bill Passes the House.

The Howard bill, imposing a tax of three cents a ton on anthracite coal received final passage by the House last week. The bill met with such spirited opposition at certain stages in the discussion that some of its most influential friends became alarmed, and in the hope of saving it from defeat advised its return to the committee. Mr. Howard, however, was determined to have the fight on the bill carried through to a decisive finish. His vigorous championship won the day, and by the time the final vote was taken the opposition had become inconsiderable.

If the bill becomes a law it will add some two million dollars to the annual revenues of the state. Inasmuch as eighty per cent. of the anthracite out put is exported from the state, the bulk of this added revenue will virtually be paid by other states.

No Race Suicide in Pennsylvania.

According to the figures compiled by the State Health Department, there were over 50,000 more births than deaths in Pennsylvania during the year 1906.

The statistics have just been tabulated and show that there were 173,845 births and 123,042 deaths.

Dies of Pneumonia.

Charles Prentice, whose home is given as Emporium, died in the Elk County General Hospital Sunday, April 14. The cause of death was pleuro pneumonia, and he had been an inmate of the hospital since April 2. The young man was aged twenty-six years and had been employed as a teamster at the Hicks Run lumbering operations. His parents are dead. The body was prepared for burial and sent to Emporium Monday on 11:02 P. & E. train.—Ridgway Record.

His remains were taken to LaBar's undertaking rooms and the funeral was held from the residence of Wm. Littlefield yesterday afternoon, Rev. Cleaver officiating.

First of the Season.

The first fish story of the season comes from Centre county and says, a 19½ inch trout has been caught near Bellefonte which weighed four pounds.

Well, we have heard some stories during the past winter months which in our opinion have the above fish story shaded by a mile. Now since the season has opened it remains for these anglers to "make good" by producing one of these speckled beauties. Of course the above doesn't refer in any way to Fisher, Forbes or Fisk.

Base Ball at Hicks Run.

The Athletic Association of Hicks Run, Penn'a, has already organized its base ball nine for the coming season, and that this town, the home of the biggest lumber operation in Pennsylvania, will be represented with a good team goes without doubt. The basket ball team has closed a very successful season, and the officers of the Association are determined that the ball nine must make an equal showing.

The players will be neatly attired in brand new Spalding uniforms, and there won't be a better clad team in the Bennetts Branch Valledy. The opening game will be played on Saturday, p. m., April 20th, and games will be arranged for every Saturday p. m., during the season.

Teams desiring games with above should address their communication to Ben Caul, Sec'y, Hicks Run, Pa., or C. M. Bierly, Mgr., Dents Run, Pa.

Ostrum, wife, son and daughtar, Wade Spence, Miss Lewis, Mrs. Clara Johnson and two daughters, Rachaei Day, Elizabeth Crandell, Eva and Dessie Lewis; Perna Gaskill, Annie Peasley, Fred and Clinton Ostrum and Mary Garrison. The evening was pleasantly passed and the guests were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ostrum, who were the recipients of many handsome presents the most important being a handsome rocking chair.

MANY BUILDINGS FALL TO PIECES.

MEXICO CITY, APRIL 17.—Details of the destruction wrought by the great earthquake of last Sunday and Monday are reaching this city slowly. A message from Acapulco to-day confirmed the story of the total destruction of Ayutla. The jail and hospital collapsed but the prisoners and the patients were taken out safely. Factories throughout the district are in ruins and thousands of workmen will suffer greatly from the loss of their homes and enforced idleness. The post office, telegraph office and barracks at Aputla were totally destroyed.

An eastern youth wrote to a Seattle minister, asking what elements enter into successful life in the west. "Grit, the grace of God and greenbacks," was the sensible and sufficient reply. Don't ask the editor to publish a list of wedding gifts. Don't add to the terrors of death by tacking stanzas of doggerel to a death notice. Don't lug an old clipping into a newspaper office and tell the editor you have brought him "something to fill up with." Take him a cabbage. He can fill up with that.—Spring Hill New Era.

Editors are the first to hear of gossip, of scandal, of indiscretions of men and women, things unfit for publication, intrigues, clandestine meetings, and in fact all neighborhood scandals. They generally know all the naughty doings in a community no matter how secret. If half they hear was published, divorce suits would follow in some cases, shot guns and lynchings, desolate homes, shame, humiliation, misery. The editor learns much of the hypocricy of life, and it is a wonder he believes in anything here or hereafter. People whoabuse the editor the loudest sometimes owe their standing in society to his forbearance.

The love story of Mary Brandon and Joe Saunders told throughout the play is of absorbing interest. The audience do not lose their interest from the rise of the curtain until the fall in the last act, when Joe and Mary live in the esteem of the world and forever honor the memory of "My Partner."

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would by needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package. For this reason mothers and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop packages with others and see. No poison marks there? You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. LOOKS LIKE SCARE

TALK OF DIVERTING FOREIGN BLOWS AT OUR TRADE.

If Blows in the Shape of Hostile Tariff Discrimination Shall Be in Fact Struck, Then the United States Should Be Prepared to Return Blow for Blow.

Of direct significance to American producers is the official outgiving as to the threateend tariff imbroglio with France. The fact that the announcement was made through the Associated Press sufficiently indicates its authority and origin. There is no mistaking the purport and the intent of the opening paragraph of the statement:

"Washington, March 6.—The executive branch of the government has abandoned all hope of finding any concessions which it can offer the French government to prevent the application of the maximum tariff rates on American products not specifically exempted therefrom by existing arrangements. The situation as to France is therefore similar to that as to Germany; in neither case can this government at present meet the demand for a reciprocity treaty as the price of minimum tariff rates for American goods and products. Through their embassies at Washington the two countries named have been made aware of this fact, and also that it remains for congress to decide whether it cares to divert these blows at the American export trade by approving reciprocity treaties with France and Germany."

If it had been framed by the American Reciprocal Tariff league, this presentment could hardly be more suggestive of an intention to tamper with our protective tariff system under the alleged stress of a necessity "to divert these blows at the American export trade."

How are these blows to be averted? Not by the executive branch of the government, for it "has abandoned all hope," we are told.

By the action of congress, then. But congress has adjourned and will not meet again in regular session until next December.

So congress cannot "divert these blows" inside of ten months. That is, unless the country can be sufficiently frightened to demand that congress be called together in extraordinary session to meet and avert this fearful danger. Was the official promulgation through the Associated Press prepared with this end in view? Possibly so.

If the scare produces the desired effect, if the American people can be thrown into a panic merely because Germany and France have threatened to at some time or other do something awful to our export trade, unless they are permitted ot force a downward revision of the American tariff, then, of course, there will be a general demonstration in behalf of prompt action through an extra session of congress.

Is this the object of the scare proclamation of March 6? Is there nothing to be done that will save the situation except the hasty summoning of congress into extra session and the hurried passage of a law authorizing the executive branch of the government to allow foreign nations to dictate what the American tariff shall be?

Yes; there is something else that can be done to "divert these blows." The executive branch can assert its dignity and its courage by calmly awaiting the progress of events; by not dodging before a blow is struck; by not squealing until it is hurt; and then, when the threatened blows shall have been dealt, by taking prompt measures of defense and retaliation.

If the emergency of actual tariff discrimination shall present itself next June or July, or at any other time between now and the first Monday in December—and we have not the slightest idea that either the German or the French bluffs will be carried into effect before next December, if at all—then congress can be called into extra session.

To do what? Certainly not to "lay down" to Germany and France. To strike back and hit hard by the adoption of a high maximum tariff that will make the exporters of $300,000,000 worth of German and French goods shiver in their boots.

If there is to be an extra session of congress to deal with threatened blows at the American export trade, that is what it should be called for, and not to surrender the American tariff system at the dictation of any one or more foreign nations.

But meanwhile, as we have said, there is an apparent significance in the Associated Press official pronunciamento that the industrial producers will do well to take note of. Direct tariff revision has been postponed until 1909, it is said; but has indirect revision also been postponed?

Revision through reciprocity concessions to Germany and France would be an easy form of revision. It would also prove to be the very worst form that tariff revision could possibly take. We do not assert that such is the true inwardness of the announcement of March 6, but we think it would be wise for those concerned to be on the lookout for developments.

The Probable Reason.

The Washington Star professes great mystification as to the influences that have prevailed with President Roosevelt in keeping tariff revision in abeyance for something over two years past. We have an explanation to offer which may help the Star out of its quandary: Ordinary, everyday, all-round, common sense. Those in search of a reason may go further and fare worse.

DIFFICULTIES IN THE WAY.

Arrangement May Involve Destruction of Protective System.

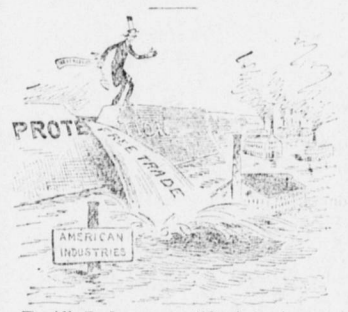
As the provisional arrangement with Germany made about a year ago, whereby importations into Germany from the United States received the benefit of the minimum tariff, would have expired next June, with the result of exposing American merchandise to the imposition of a sur-tax and possibly of precipitating a tariff war, it is gratifying to learn that Ambassador von Sternburg has been authorized by his government to renew the existing understanding for a period sufficiently extended to allow of the negotiation of some permanent agreement. The basis of the negotiation is to be furnished by the North commission, which went to Berlin several months ago to confer with the German tariff authorities and which lately returned bringing with it a report whose contents have not yet been publicly disclosed. It is this report which is embodied in the treaty which the senate will be incited to ratify when congress reassembles.

It must be said that the problem presented is one of extreme difficulty. Germany has adopted a tariff with maximum and minimum schedules. Countries which make concessions to Germany in their customs duties get the benefit of the latter, while to all others the former are applied. The difference between the two is in many respects very considerable. In some things it is so great as to exclude the products of the non-favored country from the German market, and had the discrimination been enforced against the United States trade would have been injuriously affected. Most European countries have qualified for participation in the minimum rates by a reciprocal reduction of duty, but the United States has thus far declined to enter into any such arrangement and the chances that it will agree to do so in the near future are not worth considering.

Reciprocity seems fair and looks easy, but as soon as the attempt is made to apply the principle of it to practice insurmountable difficulties are encountered. We are asked to reduce the tariff rates on certain lines of German production. Why? Obviously, in order that the German producer may be enabled to sell his product more largely in the American market. But if he does that it must be at the expense of his American competitor, because such articles as this country does not produce are nearly all on the free list. Thus the proposition is that certain American manufacturers shall be excluded from the benefits of the protective system. But that system must be for all or none, so that the idea of reciprocity logically involves its destruction. The people who were sacrificed would naturally go over to the other side.

Another thing: Concessions made to Germany in return for an abatement in the tariff could hardly be refused to Great Britain, which is our best customer and which on most of our merchandise charges no duty whatever. It will be seen that the subject bristles with thorny points.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

ANOTHER SALTON SEA CALAMITY THAT MIGHT HAPPEN.



Tariff Reformer: "And to know I did it with my reform shovel! What happiness is mine!"

Borrowed from Germany.

Secretary Root, in setting up the double tariff system as an ideal, simply borrows from German tariff procedure. Germany can have no reasonable ground for complaint if instead of meeting her with special favors we open to her the benefit of a minimum schedule available for all comers—such as she offers to us.

Not Germany, but Great Britain, is the largest buyer in American markets. Great Britain is also a large market for German goods. The British, without a protective tariff, are not in a position to offer special favors. But the fact that entrance to their markets is absolutely free—as free to the foreigner as to the Briton—has caused Germany, we understand, to give the British the benefit of the German minimum rate. Were we to adopt the German tariff system and give Germany the benefit of our minimum schedule we would be under no obligation to impose the maximum schedule on Great Britain. But would that be more satisfactory to Germany than our present course?—Pittsburg Chronicle.

What Was Promised.

The Republican party promised in 1896 to restore the reciprocity policy. —Philadelphia Record.

But the promise was not of reciprocity in competing products. It was distinctly specified that articles received from other countries under reciprocity arrangements should be "articles which we do not ourselves produce." The Republican party has never promised reciprocity on any other basis. It never will, never can promise reciprocity in competing products until it shall first decide to abandon the policy of protection.

A MONOLITH

In Memory of "Rough Riders" Is Dedicated.

PRESIDENT SPOKE.

Mr. Roosevelt Delivered a Patriotic Address—The Monument Is a Massive Granite Column.

Washington, D. C. — President Roosevelt made a speech in which he touched mainly on patriotism and good citizenship at the dedication Friday of the monument erected to the memory of the First cavalry, United States volunteers — the "Rough Riders"—of the Spanish-American war in the national cemetery at Arlington. Mrs. Allyn K. Capron, the widow of Capt. Capron, of the Rough Rider regiment, who fell at Las Guasimas, pulled the cord holding the American flag that covered the monument. Rev. D. J. Stafford, of St. Patrick's church, this city, made the dedication address.

Regular troops and part of the national guard of the District of Columbia participated in the exercises incident to the dedication. The president, accompanied from the White House by Lieut. Gen. S. B. M. Young, retired, and Maj. Frank B. McCoy, his naval aide, was met at Fort Myer by Capt. Preston's troop of the Thirteenth cavalry and escorted to the cemetery gates, where they were joined by the remainder of the military and naval contingent in the march to the monument. A distinguished company assembled on the stand from which the president delivered his address.

The monument is the design of Mrs. Capron. It is a monolith, the largest of its kind in Arlington. It is made of Vermont granite, stands 14 feet high on a base six by six feet. The memorial bears the names of more than 100 former members of the regiment who died either in Cuba or after the return of the regiment to the United States.

The main decoration is a bronze tablet bearing the regimental device, the crossed sabres, and a medallion with the names of the three battles in which the organization participated, Guasimas, San Juan and Santiago.

A RAIN OF MONEY.

It Followed Editor Stead's Speech in Behalf of the Peace Pilgrimage.

Pittsburg, Pa.—At the close of a remarkable address by William T. Stead, editor of "Review of Reviews," London, England, at the re-dedication ceremonies of the Carnegie Institute of Pittsburg, late Friday, in which the speaker announced a plan to raise $100,000 necessary to conduct the pilgrimage from all countries to The Hague conference, advocated in a recent New York address, unbounded enthusiasm took possession of the large audience and money was thrown to the floor of the stage.

Mr. Stead after explaining the purpose of the pilgrimage to the next Hague conference estimated that it would take at least $100,000 to finance the proposition. To raise this sum he proposed that every boy and girl in colleges and universities throughout the United States donate 50 cents toward the fund needed. He said the lesson furnished to Europe by such a movement would be an influential factor in the quest of international peace.

The suggestion came at the end of his address and he sat down amid loud applause. For fully five minutes the clapping and cheering was prolonged and finally the speaker again arose and said that probably the audience would like to contribute to the fund. Immediately a shower of silver money landed on the stage, coming from all parts of the hall.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Bad Weather Has Had a Deterrent Effect on Many Lines of Business.

New York.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Erratic weather makes trade reports irregular, retail sales of spring wearing apparel being retarded by storms and cold at many points, although some sections experience seasonable conditions. Temporary interruption to retail distribution has no ill effects upon jobbing and wholesale business, however, heavy transactions and shipments testifying to confidence in the future, while mercantile collections show further improvement.

Several strikes have retarded work, notably in sawmills at Portland, Ore., and in shipbuilding at Cleveland, but manufacturing returns are most satisfactory on the whole.

Most encouraging news comes from the iron and steel industry.

Silk Mills to be Merged.

York, Pa.—The silk mill merger with a capital of $22,500,000 is announced here. The merger thus far includes the York and Monarch mills, in this city, and mills at Carlisle, Fleetwood, Kutztown and Reynoldsville, this state.

Refused to Quash Indictment.

Chicago, Ill. — Final motions to quash the whole indictment against the Standard Oil Co., charged with obtaining illegal freight rates, were overruled Friday by Judge Landis, in the federal court.

TO THE FAR NORTH

A DAY IN JUNE WILL SEE COMMANDER PEARY BEGIN ANOTHER JOURNEY.

HE INTENDS TO MAKE ONE MORE ATTEMPT TO REACH THE NORTH POLE.

New York. — The application of Robert E. Peary, U. S. N., for leave of absence for three years which was approved Tuesday by the secretary of the navy, has uncovered the fact that Commander Peary purposes to make another attempt this summer to reach the North Pole. The three years' leave of absence during which he made his famous journey to the farthest point north ever reached by man—87 degrees 6 minutes—expired last Sunday and the new leave begins at once.

Preparations for another dash toward the pole have been under way all winter, but Peary and his associates of the Peary Arctic club have been keeping secret their action, as it was felt that it would be a breach of courtesy, if not of discipline, for the naval officer to announce his voyage until his superiors made it possible by their approval. The order granting the leave of absence stipulates that the time is to be devoted to arctic exploration. June is the month in which the start is to be made.

The Roosevelt is at Shooter's Island and is being refitted with new boilers. Those used during her last voyage did not supply adequate power and were credited with being one of the greatest drawbacks to the complete success of the expedition.

Capt. Robert Bartlett, of St. Johns, N. F., sailing master of the Roosevelt, has been notified to come to New York in May to superintend the fitting out of the vessel. Commander Peary, before the end of his last voyage, determined to select his own crew for his next advance on the pole, to avoid the troubles which arose because of discontented spirits among his last ship's company. He will pick every man to be taken.

Sledges will again be the dependence of the explorer, and he will again follow the American route, making a dash across the ice from his winter quarters toward the pole, which he is more confident than ever of reaching.

ON A FRAUD CHARGE.

An Oil Company Promoter Is Arrested and Held in $15,000 Bail.

Topeka, Kan.—Following his indictment on the charge of using the mails to defraud, H. H. Tucker, jr., of Cherryvale, Kan., secretary and promoter of the Uncle Sam Oil Co., who was arrested in Kansas City, was arraigned in court here Tuesday. Judge Pollock fixed Tucker's bond at $15,000 and he left for Kansas City in charge of an officer of the court to secure bail.

It is charged that Tucker has sold about $1,200,000 (cash value) in stock in the Uncle Sam Oil Co. with a par value of over $10,000,000; that about $20,000 paid in dividends was taken from the receipts of stock sales and not from the earnings of the company, and that while this was going on Tucker was using the mails to accomplish the sale of more stock; also that the assets of the company are $150,000 less than the money received from the sale of the stock.

Before starting for Topeka, Mr. Tucker gave out a printed statement defending his action and saying:

"I have solicited money from the people of the United States in absolute good faith and with this money have built three refineries, 150 miles of pipe line and purchased thousands of acres of the best oil lands in Kansas and the territories."

"Would that I were up in the moon,"
Said the maiden sweet and fair;
And when the dudelet asked her why,
She sighed and pointed to the sky—
And said: "There's a man up there!"

HEARTS AND MASKS

By HAROLD MacGRATH

(Copyright, 1905, by Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

She slipped it mechanically over her finger.

"But you, my dear Mr. Comstalk!" he cried, turning his shining eyes upon me, while his fingers deftly replaced the gems in the bag.

"I have no jewelry," I replied, tossing aside the cigarette.

"But you have something infinitely better. I am rather observant. In Friard's curio-shop you carelessly exhibited a wallet that was simply choking to death with long yellow-boys. You have it still. Will you do me the honor?"—stretching out his slim white hand.

I looked at William; he nodded. There wasn't the slightest chance for me to argue. So I drew out my wallet. I extracted the gold-bills and made a neat little packet of them. It hurt, hurt like the deuce, to part with them. But—!

"Game, William, isn't he? Most men would have flung the wallet at my head."

"Oh, he is game, sir; never you doubt it, sir," said the amiable William.

"I have some silver in change," I suggested with some bitterness.

"Far be it that I should touch silver," he said generously, did this rogue. "Besides, you will need something to pay for this little supper and the fare back to New York." My bills disappeared into his pocket. "You will observe that I trust you implicitly. I haven't even counted the money."

William sniggered.

"And is there anything further?" I inquired. The comedy was beginning to weary me, it was so one-sided.

"I am in no particular hurry," the rogue answered, his sardonic smile returning. "It is so long since I have chatted with people of my kind."

I scowled.

"Pardon me, I meant from a social point of view only. I admit we would not be equals in the eye of the Presbyter."

And then followed a scene that reminds me to this day of some broken, fantastic dream, a fragment from some bewildering nightmare.

CHAPTER IX.

For suddenly I saw his eyes widen and flash with anger and apprehension. Quick as a passing sun-shadow, his hand swept the candelabrum from the table. He made a swift backward spring toward the door, but he was a little too late. The darkness he had created was not intense enough, for there was still the ruddy glow from the logs; and the bosom of his dress-shirt made a fine target. Besides, the eyes that had peered into the window were accustomed to the night.

Blang! The glass of the window shivered and jingled to the floor, and a sharp report followed. The rogue cried out in fierce anguish, and reeled against the wall. William whipped out his revolver, but, even from his favorable angle, he was not quick enough. The hand that had directed the first bullet was ready to direct the second.

All this took place within the count of ten. The girl and I sat stiffly in our chairs, as if petrified, it was all so swiftly accomplished.

"Drop it!" said a cold, authoritative voice, and I saw the vague outlines of Haggerty's face beyond the broken window-pane.

William knew better than to hesitate. His revolver struck the floor dully, and a curse rolled from his lips. Immediately a heavy body precipitated itself against the door, which crashed inward, and an officer fearlessly entered, a revolver in each hand. This tableau, which lasted fully a minute, was finally disturbed by the entrance of Haggerty himself.

"Don't be alarmed, Miss," he said heartily; "it's all over. I'm sorry for the bullet, but it had to be done. The rascal has nothing more serious than a splintered bone. I am a dead shot. A fine night!"—triumphantly. "It's been a long chase, and I never was sure of the finish. You're the cleverest rogue it has been my good fortune to meet this many a day. I don't even know who you are yet. Well, well! we'll round that up in time."

Not till the candles again sputtered with light, and William was securely handcuffed and disarmed, did I recollect that I possessed the sense of motion. The smoke of powder drifted across the flickering candles, and there was a salty taste on my tongue.

"Horrible!" cried the girl, covering her eyes.

The master rogue and his valet were led out into the assembly-room, and we reluctantly followed. I saw it all now. When Haggerty called up central at the club, he ascertained where the last call had been from, and, learning that it came from Hollywood Inn, he took his chance. The room was soon filled with servants and stable-hands, the pistol-shot having lured them from their beds. The wounded man was very pale. He sat with his uninjured hand tightly clasped above the ragged wound, and a little pool of blood slowly formed at his side on the floor. But his eyes shone brightly.

"A basin of water and some linen!" cried the girl to Moriarty. "And send all these people away."

"To yer rooms, ivery one of ye!" snapped Moriarty, sweeping his hands. "'Tis no place for ye, be off!" He hurried the servants out of the room, and presently returned with a basin of water, some linen and balm.

We watched the girl as she bathed and bandaged the wounded arm; and once or twice the patient smiled. Haggerty looked on approvingly, and in William's eyes there beamed the gentle light of reverence. It was a picture to see this lovely creature playing the part of the good Samaritan, moving here and there is her exquisite gown. Ah, the tender mercy! I knew that, come what might, I had strangely found the right woman, the one woman.

"You're a good little woman," said the rogue, his face softening; "and a good woman is the finest thing God ever placed upon earth. Had I only found one!" He turned whimsically toward me. "Are you engaged to marry this little woman?"

"No."

"Surely you love her!"

We Watched the Girl.

"Surely I do!" I looked bravely at the girl as I spoke.

But she never gave any sign that she heard. She pinned the ends of the bandages carefully.

"And what brought you to this?" asked Haggerty, looking down at his prisoner.

The prisoner shrugged.

"You've the making of a fine man in you," went on Haggerty generously. "What caused you to slip up?"

"That subject is taboo," replied the thief. "But I want to beg your pardon for underestimating your cunning."

"It was all due to a chance shot at the telephone."

"I kept you guessing."

"Merrily, too. My admiration is wholly yours, sir," returned Haggerty, picking up the telephone exchange-book. He rang and placed his lips to the transmitter, calling a number. "Hello! It this the chief of the Blankshire police? Yes? Well, this is Haggerty. That idea I hinted to you was a mighty good one. Prepare two strong cells and have a doctor on hand. What? Oh, you will find your horse and carriage at Moriarty's. Good-bye!"

My money was handed over to me. I returned it to my wallet, but without any particular enthusiasm.

"It's bad business, William," said I.

"It's all in the game, sir,"—with a look at Haggerty that expressed infinite hatred. "In our business we can't afford to be careless."

"Or to talk too much," supplemented his master, smiling. "Talk, my friend, rounds me up with a bullet in the arm, and a long sojourn behind stone walls. Never talk. Thank you, too, Mr. Comstalk, for the saving grace of humor. If it were possible, I should like to give Miss Hawthorne the pick of the jewels. This is a sordid world."

"Ye'er car-r is coming!" shouted Moriarty, running to the window.

So the girl and I passed out of Hollywood Inn, leaving Haggerty with his mysterious prisoners. I can't reason it out, even to this day, but I was genuinely sorry that Haggerty had arrived upon the scene. For one thing, he had spoiled the glamour of the adventure by tingeing it with blood. And on the way to the car I wondered what had been the rogue's past, what had turned him into this hardy, perilous path. He had spoken of a woman; perhaps that was it. They are always behind good actions and bad Heigh-ho!

Once we were seated in the lonely car, the girl broke down and cried as if her heart would break. It was only the general reaction, but the sight of her tears unnerved me.

"Don't cry, girl; don't!" I whispered, taking her hand in mine. She made no effort to repulse me. "I am sorry. The rascal was a gallant beggar, and I for one shouldn't have been sorry to see him get away. There, there! You're the bravest, tenderest girl in all this world; and when I told him I loved you, God knows I meant it! It is one of those inexplicable things. You say I have known you only eight hours? I have known you always, only I had not met you. What are eight hours? What is convention, formality? We two have lived a lifetime in these eight hours. Can't you see that we have?"

"To shoot a human being!" she sobbed. Her head fell against my shoulder. I do not believe she was conscious of the fact. And I did not care a hang for the conductor.

I patted her hand encouragingly. "It had to be done. He was in a desperate predicament, and he would have shot Haggerty had the detective been careless in his turn; and he wouldn't have amied to maim, either."

"What a horrible night! It will haunt me as long as I live!"

I said nothing; and we did not speak again till the first of the Blankshire lights flashed by us. By this time her sobs had ceased.

"I know I haven't done anything especially gallant to-night; no fighting, no rescuing, and all that. They just moved me around like a piece of stage scenery."

A smile flashed and was gone. It was a hopeful sign.

"But the results are the same. You have admitted to me that you are neither engaged nor married. Won't you take me on—on approval?"

"Mr. Comstalk, it all seems so like a horrid dream. You are a brave man, and, what is better, a sensible one, for you submitted to the inevitable with the best possible grace. But you talk of love as readily as a hero in a popular novel."

"I never go back," said I. "It seems incredible, doesn't it, that I should declare myself in this fashion? Listen, for my part, I believe that all this was written,—my Tom-foolery in Mouquin's, my imposture and yours, the two identical cards,—the adventure from beginning to end."

Silence.

"Suppose I should say," the girl began looking out of the window, "that in the restaurant you aroused my curiosity, that in the cellars my admiration was stirred, that the frank manner in which you expressed your regard for me to—to the burglar—awakened—"

"What?" I cried eagerly.

"Nothing. It was merely a supposition."

"Hang it; I love you!"

"Are you still the Capuchin, or simply Mr. Comstalk?"

"I have laid aside all masks, even that which hides the heart."

She turned and looked me steadily in the eyes.

"Well?" said I.

"If I took you on—on approval, what in the world should I do with you in case you should not suit my needs?"

"You could return me," said I laughing.

But she didn't.

(THE END.)

How She Broke the Cup.

Signora Veronelli (seeking a servant)—Why were you sent away from your last place?

"Because I broke a coffee cup."

"Was that the only reason?"

"Certainly, except that on that account my mistress had a little wound on the head."—Il Riso.

NO VERDICT.

Jury in the Thaw Trial Failed to Agree.

WAS OUT 47 HOURS

Seven Jurymen Voted for Verdict of Guilty of First Degree Murder and Five for Acquittal.

New York.—Hopelessly divided—seven for a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree and five for acquittal on the ground of insanity—the jury which since January 23 had been trying Harry K. Thaw reported Friday after 47 hours and 8 minutes of deliberation that it could not possibly agree upon a verdict. The 12 men were promptly discharged by Justice Fitzgerald, who declared that he believed their task was hopeless. Thaw was remanded to the Tombs without bail to await a second trial on the charge of having murdered Stanford White.

When this new trial would take place no one connected with the case could express an opinion. District Attorney Jerome declared that there were many other persons accused of homicide awaiting trial and Thaw would have to take his turn with the rest. As to a possible change of venue, both the district attorney and counsel for Thaw declared they would make no such move.

Thaw, surrounded by the members of his family, received the news in absolute silence. When it became known that the jury was about to make its report and that the case would be disposed of Thaw called his wife to a seat by his side and sat with his arm thrown about her until he was commanded to stand and face the jurors. Smiling and confident as he entered the court room, he sank limply into his chair when Foreman Deming B. Smith, in response to a question by Clerk Penny as to whether a verdict had been agreed upon, said: "We have not."

Thaw when he had returned to the Tombs gave out the following statement:

"I believe that every man in the jury possessing average intelligence, excepting possibly Mr. Bolton, comprehend the weight of evidence and balanced it for acquittal. All my family bid me good-bye with courage. I trust we may all keep well."

To his attorneys Thaw said he was deeply disappointed.

"But I could hardly expect anything else in view of the events of the past few days," he added.

Earlier in the day Thaw had given out another statement in which he said he desired that his fate should be judged upon the "written" laws of the state of New York. He declared that he believed that the evidence adduced had convinced even District Attorney Jerome of his innocence under the strict letter of the law.

The story of the proceedings in the jury room as they were learned last night far outranked in interest the brief court proceedings which brought the famous trial to a close. It developed that the jury had considered everything connected with the case except "the unwritten law." Basing their judgment entirely upon the evidence, they voted either for or against murder in the first degree when they cast their first ballot. The first vote was 8 to 4 in favor of conviction. Then the jury tried to reach a common ground upon a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree, the punishment for which ranges to a maximum of 20 years' imprisonment. The men in favor of acquittal—largely on the ground of insanity, it is said—would not change their ballots and in the end won over to their side one of the eight who favored conviction.

During the nearly 48 hours of deliberation only eight ballots were cast. The jury spent the two night sessions dozing in their chairs. The entire story of what transpired in the jury room from the time the 12 men retired at 5:17 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon until they finally decided Friday afternoon that the prospects of a verdict were too remote to warrant longer discussion of the facts, was told by one of the jurors, Henry C. Harney, No. 5, a manufacturer of pianos. The final ballot, taken just before the jury reported its disagreement in court, was as follows:

For conviction of murder in the first degree: Messrs. Deming B. Smith, foreman; George Pfaff, No. 2; Charles H. Fecke, No. 3; Harry C. Brearley, No. 6; Charles D. Newton, No. 8; Joseph B. Bolton, No. 11, and Bernard Gerstman, No. 12.

For acquittal on the ground of insanity: Messrs Oscar A. Pink, No. 4; Henry C. Harney, No. 5; Malcolm S. Fraser, No. 7; Wilbur F. Steele, No. 9, and John S. Dennee, No. 10.

Juror Bolton said. "There was no question of the unwritten law or of 'dementia Americana' in our deliberations. We considered the case from a purely legal standpoint."

M. L. Cummings was a PRESS business visitor last Saturday.

Mrs. D. W. Morton, of Sizer Run, transacted business in town yesterday.

Dan'l McCormick went to Williamsport hospital last Saturday for treatment.

Judge B. W. Green and family returned from an enjoyable visit to Emporia, Fla., on Tuesday.

Frank H. Pearsall will sell a quantity of household goods at auction next Saturday at two o'clock.

John W. Miller, of Sinnamahoning was in town last Saturday and made the PRESS a business call.

Born to Mrs. Ira W. Good, on Monday, a son. Mrs. Good has been staying with her father, Stilson Robinson and family for some time.

Misses Clara Lathrop, Margaret Melin, Nancy Turley and Margaret Faucett, four little Misses, made our sanctum a visit last Friday.

Geo. A. Walker, Jr., and sister Miss Grace A., have returned from a pleasant visit to St. Marys, where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Russ.

A. L. Ensign came up from Sinnamahoning Tuesday evening to attend Masonic Chapter and while in town renewed his PRESS subscription for another year.

Mr. Godfrey Howard and Miss Marion Rothfuss, of Williamsport, passed a couple of days with their grandmother, Mrs. M. A. Rockwell, at this place this week.

H. S. Lloyd is as busy as a hen placing his goods in shape in his new store room in Keystone block, opposite New Warner. He has a large and handsome store room.

Gordon Howlett and wife of Sterling Run, were in town on Monday. Mr. Howlett made the PRESS a short call and carried away a receipt for another year's subscription.

Fred Ostrum had a narrow escape on Monday evening. While driving up Bryan Hill, his horse became frightened and jumped off the road going down the hill and through a barb wire fence.

Mr. Wm. L. Sykes, of Buffalo, N. Y., accompannied by his wife and two daughters, Misses Ruth and Grace, are making an extended visit at Atlantic City, for the benefit of Mr. Sykes' health.

G. Frank Balcom is still confined to his residence nursing that sprained ankle. He hopes he can get to his store next week and prepare to wipe up the floor with Franklin Housler.

The Odd Fellows Hall Association are minus one tenant—undersirable—but have a quantity of furniture in stock. Those merchants who got left can secure a few "assets" that the boys don't want.

Stanley Sartwell Smith, of Sugar Grove, Pa., has accepted a place with the De Arcey Opera company of New York for next season. Mr. Smith has a very fine tenor voice and will doubtless prove a success.—Jamestown Evening Journal.

Great Caesar, house cleaning has commenced.

Lyman Wiley, expert saw mill man, has accepted a position at Buffalo.

Hon J. C. Johnson attended Superior Court at Pittsburg last week.

A few choice garden seeds at the PRESS office, compliments of Senator Penrose.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Davison of Johnsburg, registered at New Warner yesterday.

As we go to press, our venerable citizen John Day, Sr., in his 84th year, is very feeble. A grand good man.

John Cruger, of Canoe Run, rejoices over the arrival of a son at his home, last night. Cigars galore for the boys. Send ours up, "Paul."

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Harris pleasantly entertained a few friends at their residence, last evening. Pedro.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Slocum have returned from Oregon, and are now located at Franklinville, N. Y.

Ed. Tracey, of Hambleton, West Va., writes us for the PRESS for another year, as all the former cameron county residents do. Mr. Tracey, who formerly lived at Sterling Run, says "I can't get along without the PRESS."

A good straight Republican made his appearance, last Saturday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Van Gelder, down in Jersey, and like his stalwart father will help to keep Jersey in line for the G. O. P.

J. A. Dice, P. & E. Station agent at Sterling Run, visited in Emporium on Tuesday, shaking hands with old friends. He is reliable authority on brook trout and says he'll wait until the big fellows crawl out of their nests before he can have any luck.

Mr. R. A. Eick, Supt. of Emporium Tannery, came home on Saturday to spend Sunday with his family. Anthrax continues to trouble his leg and he was compelled to return to the Falls Creek specialist. His many friends hope he may rapidly recover.

Anson K. Robinson, who has been visiting his sister and family at Johnsonburg returned to Emporium yesterday, after helping them to move to Kushequa, where Mr. Reed has accepted the position of Supt. of a brick plant.

Handsome Residence.

Jos. Kaye and family are preparing to occupy their new and palatial residence on Sixth street. They expect to be located about May 1st. This is the largest and handsomest residence in the county.

The Erie Flyer commenced stopping at Emporium—upper station—Tuesday morning, in compliance with request of many citizens. Our energetic citizen, Mr. Michael Murphy, was the prime mover in the matter and he is entitled to the credit.

Most Wonderful Cave In the World.

The most wonderful cave in the world is in the island of Tonga, in the south Pacific. Byron called it "a chapel of the seas." It is formed in a rock that is almost surrounded by the ocean. This rock is about sixty feet high and broad proportionately. Many years ago a boy, the son of a native chief, was chasing a huge turtle, when his game seemed to sink into the rock. The lad watched and waited until the tide fell, disclosing a small opening in the rock about six feet under low water mark. Diving boldly, the young hunter entered the aperture and, to his surprise, came to the surface inside the rock. The rock was hollow, and its interior was found afterward, when the natives explored it with torches, to contain many beautiful stalactites. When attacked and followed by enemies, the natives, who know the secret, leave their canoes, plunge into the water and disappear. Their foes linger, astonished at their disappearance, for no person not acquainted with it would suspect that the rock was hollow.

Let's Talk It Over, Anyhow.

A friend from a western town writes:

"We can trace at least a thousand increase of population the past year from the fact that the fifty-four members of our Commercial Club about a year ago all agreed to have printed on the back of their business letterheads a description of the town, its location, climate, natural advantages, possibilities for business, etc. Thus every letter they wrote was an advertisement for the town. The town booming matter was artistically printed, and the catch line being visible as the folded sheet was taken from the envelope, few persons failed to read it. Inquiries for more information came pouring in, and then the people came pouring in. Why don't you try to have your people do likewise?"

Now that looks like a sensible proposition. Suppose fifty of our citizens should have their stationery printed with such matter on the back! Say they will average a thousand letters a year. That would be fifty thousand little booms for the town, going out to all quarters of the compass.

One of these letters might strike the eye of just the right party and bring us a new factory, an educational institution, or even a good substantial family looking for a desirable home place.

It is worth trying.

We can get up the descriptive matter for you and do the printing.

Why don't you start the ball?

Many Gossips.

Did you ever notice that "talk" doesn't hurt a man much? Perfection isn't looked for in man, and when some one tries to injure a man, by ranting about a few faults he has, the absent one, who is probably attending to his own affairs, is elavated in his hearer's estimation, while the informant is lowered accordingly. If a man knocks along doing fairly well, people realize that while he has some faults, he has more virtues, and they are charitable enough to overlook these faults.

But it is different with a girl or women. No matter how good a woman may be, let some one start an infamous lie about her and everyone is willing to pass it along, and there is always some one to believe it. That lie can never be lived down. It may burn low but the gossip loving are ready with new fuel.—Ex.

Rest is a great restorer. We tire our muscles by exercise and then rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomachs. As a usual thing no part of our bodies is so generally overworked as our digestive organs. A tired and overworked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last Dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning, and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. KODOL is a most thorough stomach relief. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assits in restoring it to its normal activity and usefulness. KODOL is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by R. FIGHT FOR SENATOR

Lines Are Being Drawn in Legislature for the Approaching Contest.

ELKIN MAY BE A CANDIDATE

Popular Vote Measures Being Put Forward by Friends of Different Aspirants—McClain Believed to Favor Justice Elkin.

Harrisburg, Pa.—A very interesting contest has been inaugurated in the legislature with the United States senatorship as the ultimate prize Several bills have been introduced at various times to give the electors of the state an opportunity to express their choice of candidates for United States senator. Legislators who are opposed to the re-election of Senator Boise Penrose are planning to put one of these measures through.

It is the Lydick bill that has been slated for passage. It is a uniform primary bill with the United States senatorship attachement by which electors may express their choice of senatorial candidates at the primaries. The North primary election bill has a similar clause, but in addition it does away with all state conventions. The McCord bill simply provides for an expression of the voters on the senatorial question and contains no provision for uniform primaries.

Speaker Frank B. McClain publicly admitted that he requested the house elections committee to make the senatorial attachment to the Lydick primary bill, and that he desired its passage. Speaker McClain, it will be recalled, was one of John P. Elkin's foremost supporters for the governorship nomination at the time Pennypacker was nominated. The nominating speech was made by Robert S. Murphy, now lieutenant governor, and the seconding speech by McClain. With McClain as speaker of the house and Murphy as president of the senate the Elkin people think they will be able to send the Lydick bill through both houses. However, the friends of Penrose think they will be able to put the bill to death in the senate, where there is less hostility to Penrose.

Beginning of the Fight.

This marks the beginning of the United States senatorship fight, and it promises to be a very warm one from start to finish. It is too early to forecast who will be Penrose's opponent for the senatorship, but those of the opposing faction first want to pass a bill that will make it necessary for Penrose to go before the people. They say that if this is accomplished it will be easier for them to make a fight against him. It is believed that their ultimate purpose is to put up Justice Elkin as their candidate against him. Mr. Elkin, although for several years on the state supreme court bench, has never lost his liking for politics, and it is believed that he will get into the fight.

The McLane good roads bill having passed the house finally, is now on its way through the senate. However, as there are many good roads bills pending it is not altogether certain that the McLane measure will be the one to go to the governor. It is regarded as a very good measure. The bill increases the amount of money to be returned to the counties for road purposes and carries an additional appropriation of $3,000,000. Each county is to receive from the state a sum equal to 50 per cent of the amount the county raises by taxation for roads provided such state subsidy shall not exceed $20 per mile.

Casey Bill Favored.

The employers' liability bill introduced in the house by Representative Casey, the Labor Party man from Luzerne, is slated for the statute books. It was selected out of a half dozen such bills as being the most comprehensive and fair. Amendment was made so that the employe suing for damages must assume the burden of proof that the employer might have taken steps to prevent the accident on which the suit is based. The bill has the backing of the mine workers' representatives.

Speaker McClain's bills to return all of the liquor license and personal property tax moneys to the counties are likely to become laws. If enacted it will mean a saving of about $1,300,000 to the counties of the state. It will likewise mean a falling off of the state's revenues to that extent.

The railroad commission bill is certain to become a law with a very important amendment attached to it. This amendment, introduced by Representative Blakeslee, Democrat, of Carbon, provides that when a railroad company proposes to increase its capital stock or fixed indebtedness the matter shall first be laid before the commission. The judgment of the commission shall be final. This bill is intended to prevent the watering of stock on the part of all common carriers.

What About Creasy Bill?

Everybody is wondering what the senate is going to do with "Farmer" Creasy's anti-trust bill. The hint has been thrown out that it is to be smothered. It drives at the Standard Oil Co., the United States Steel corporation and other big institutions of the kind, and of course these corporations are opposed to being put out of business. The prospects are it will not go through without a bitter fight.

The signing of the two-cent fare bill by the governor did not end the trouble with the railroad companies. In fact they seemed to rather like fighting and encouraged their friends to strike back by opposing the bill exempting the short lines from the two-cent maximum rate. The big trunk lines did not like the idea of making the maximum rate five cents per mile for short lines when their own maximum rate was fixed at two cents. It seemed like child's play to show resentment in that way, but the railroad captains conceived that if they could prevent the short line bill from going through it might aid them eventually in having the two-cent fare bill repealed.

The senate seems to be a little slow in passing the trolley freight bill, but it is bound to go through sooner or later. This is considered far more important than the two-cent fare bill, and its friends are keeping a close watch upon it. They will not allow any amendments attached to it that will work injury to it.

Checking "High Finance."

The rapid pace many "high financiers" have been going the past few years is likely to bring about the passage of the bill providing that no treasurer of any trust company shall engage in any other business and shall not engage in stock speculation of any kind. This sort of gambling has led to the downfall of many a good man holding a responsible position and not he alone has suffered. The stockholders have had to bear the brunt of his sins. The bill is well advanced on the house calendar.

In this connection there is another bill which is intended to put bucket shops out of business. The bill makes it a misdemeanor not only to operate a bucket shop but to furnish stock quotations to a bucket shop or to knowingly permit a bucket shop to be operated on your premises. The bill annuls all contracts made with bucket shops. If that bill becomes a law it will be of greatest advantage to the legitimate stock brokers. Men who like to speculate in stocks are not going to be deprived of the pastime by putting the bucket shops out of existence, but they will have to increase the size of their margins when they deal with the regular brokers.

Barber Bill Likely to Pass.

Unless your barber is examined and obtains a license you will have to shave yourself and cut your own hair if a bill establishing the state board of barber examiners becomes a law. It is likely to pass finally.

Building and loan associations are making quite a fight against the Clarency building and loan bill, which has for its alleged object the elimination of what are known as national building and loan associations. The building and loan federation of Western Pennsylvania has deluged the legislators with circulars protesting against the passage of this measure. The federation, which is composed entirely of local associations, contends that there are no "national associations" operating under Pennsylvania laws, and that among the state associations only 12 are doing a general business. The federation asserts that the bill, if enacted, would cripple every associa- that has a demand for loans in excess of its regular periodical income and that to meet these demands it would have to borrow from the banks, which is only a temporary expedient. The paragraph in the bill that is most objected to reads as follows:

"Prepaid installment of stock for a longer period than 12 months in advance and the issuing of full paid stock are hereby prohibited."

The associations belonging to the federation have for 20 years been in the habit of raising money by permitting members to prepay their installments. In this state there is in force about $4,500,000 full paid stock, and perhaps $20,000,000 of advance payments of installment stock.

Anti-Saloonists Awake.

If anyone thinks that the Anti-Saloon League people have gone to sleep it would pay him to take a look in at this legislature. There are several bills in committee affecting the liquor interests, and the liquor men have had a powerful lobby here looking after their interests. Likewise the anti-saloon people. The latter say that the liquor people have no difficulty in getting the law and order people to report out any bill that may be desired, but that anything against the liquor men's interests is obliged to remain in committee until smoked out. Mr. Gearhart, Democrat, of Clearfield, offered a resolution in the house the other day to discharge the law and order committee from the consideration of an important bill, but the resolution was overwhelmingly defeated, showing that the house likewise is in sympathy with the liquor people. This bill, which has been in committee since January 21, prohibits distillers and brewers from soliciting orders from persons not in the liquor business. It probably will be smothered in committee.

Still More in Store.

The capitol building probers have discovered that it was the ultimate intention of Architect J. M. Huston to saddle the state with a capitol building to cost from $32,000,000 to $35,000,000. The architect, whose dreams of architectural "high art" are surpassed only by his consummate nerve, had planned a temple that would have put Solomon in all his glory to shame. Then he was going to build a $3,000,000 wall about it.

It is expected that this and a lot more interesting information will be brought out at the investigation hearings in the near future. The scandal grows, but the public has not heard the half of it.

RHEUMATISM CANNOT BE CURED UNLESS URIC-O IS USED

Sudden Deaths, Heart Failure and Paralysis Are Caused by Poisonous Uric and Rheumatic Acids.

The disease whose cause is shrouded in mystery, the affliction that is said to be incurable, is commonly known as paralysis. Show us a person suffering with this disease, and you will find that at some time previous to the attack, the patient suffered from some form of Rheumatism. This dangerous disease should not be neglected, especially where there is a cure within such easy reach. We refer to Smith's Specific Uric-O, a harmless compound, free from alcohol and poison, and made to cure Rheumatism only. Uric-O acts with marvelous swiftness on the blood, muscles and kidneys, and cannot fail to remove all traces of poisonous Uric and Rheumatic acid from the system. Uric-O is not a cathartic, does not affect or distress the stomach, and is the only known liquid preparation that will relieve and permanently cure Rheumatism in its most distressing forms. We want all Rheumatic sufferers to test the merits of Uric-O, therefore by addressing the SMITH DRUG COMPANY, SYRACUSE, N. Y., a liberal size sample and circular will be sent free. Uric-O is sold by Druggists at $1.00 per bottle, or will be sent direct upon receipt of price.

Uric-O is sold in Emporium by L. Taggart. 32ly.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says:—"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

Kodol Digests What You Eat.

Bottles only. Relieves indigestion, sour stomach, belching of gas, etc.

To the above named defendants:—

YOU are hereby commanded to appear before our Judges at our Court of Common Pleas for the county of Cameron, to be held at Emporium on the 6th day of May next to show cause why you do not hold together with the said plaintiffs and undivided, all those two certain pieces, parcels and tracts of land, lying and being in the Township of Lumber, County of Cameron and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

No. 1.—All of warrant number five thousand four hundred and forty (5440) containing eleven hundred (1100) acres, with the usual allowances, bounded on the north by warrant No. 5437; on the east by warrant No. 5439; on the south by warrant No. 5441 and on the west by warrant No. 4033 and vacant lands.

No. 2.—Also all of warrant No. five thousand four hundred and forty one (5441) bounded on the north by warrant No. 5440; on the east by warrant 5442; on the south by warrant 5461 and on the west by warrant No. 4032. Excepting therefrom and thereout the following piece and parcel of land, described as follows: Beginning at a stump, corner of land of T. Britton and on the north west corner of the tract; thence north eighteen hundred and twenty-five (1825) perches to a post on the warrant line; thence east eleven (11) rods to a hemlock corner; thence south 37 degrees east sixty-six (66) perches to a pine corner; thence south fifty (50) degrees east eighty-one (81) perches to a hemlock; thence south twenty-nine degrees east seventy-eight (78) perches to a post; thence west along line of tract of T. Britton one hundred and sixty (160) rods to the place of beginning, containing one hundred eleven and five-tenths (111.5) acres and being a part of warrant No. 5441, and conveyed by F. M. Bingham to John Brooks by deed dated October 30th, 1868, and recorded in the Recorder's office of Cameron county, aforesaid, in Deed Book "C" page 26. ALSO EXCEPTING and reserving therefrom and thereout all that certain piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the township of Lumber, county of Cameron and state of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as fellows, viz: Beginning at a hemlock corner in warrant number five thousand four hundred and forty (5440) and about fifty (50) rods northwesterly from the northwest corner of the Kirk Hay farm, running thence south twenty (20) degrees east forty-three (43) rods to the south line of warrant number five thousand four hundred and forty (5440); thence south twenty (20) degrees east one hundred and seventeen (117) rods to post corner; thence north seventy (70) degrees east two hundred rods to a post corner; thence north twenty (20) degrees west one hundred and sixty (160) rods to a hemlock corner; thence south seventy (70) degrees west two hundred rods to the place of beginning. Containing two hundred acres of land, more or less. Being about one hundred (100) acres in warrant No. 5440 and about one hundred (100) acres in warrant No. 5441. Being the same property which was conveyed by Estellina Dallett and others to John Jacob Schwab by deed dated April 4th, 1889, and recorded September 20th, 1892, in the Recorder's office of Cameron county in Deed Book "K" page 314, the said John Jacob Schwab, his heirs and assigns having the right and privilege of ingress and egress to and from said land across the lands of the grantors named in said deed from Estellina Dallett and others over the road as used on the 4th day of April 1889, to the village of Cameron and to the public road at the dwelling house of C. H. Sage, provided that where sales are made of land along the road leading to the house of said Sage, if it shall be found convenient and necessary by the purchasers to make the change in the location of said road, said change shall be made. And being the two tracts of land which were sold by T. B. Lloyd, Trustee appointed by said Court to sell the real estate in partition proceedings wherein James C. Noyes and others were plaintiffs and Helen G. Huntley and others were defendants to No. 14 September Term, 1886, in the said Court, and sold to Estellina Dallett, an undivided one-third interest; W. W. Barrows an undivided one-third interest, and to Charles R. Noyes, James C. Noyes, Hannah M. Noyes, Jennie C. Blandin, Mary E. Farr and Frank P. Noyes together an undivided one-third interest, reference being thereunto had will more fully and at large appear.

And to show cause why partition of said lands should not be made between you and said plaintiffs according to the laws and customs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. And to abide the further order of the Court in the premises.

ROAD TO SUCCESS

PUBLICITY IS THE MAIL-ORDER MAN'S GREAT WEAPON.

MERCHANTS MUST ADVERTISE

"Fight Fire with Fire" and the Dollars Now Going Cityward Will Stay in the Home Community.

The merchant who would wage successful warfare against mail-order competition should study mail-order methods. The same tactics that takes the dollar out of the community will keep it at home.

And what are mail-order methods?

The keynote of it all may be found in the one word—publicity. The mail-order house advertises. It does not advertise better goods at less money than the home merchant gives, but it advertises persistently. It puts its proposition before the public constantly. It recognizes no dull season in its campaign for publicity. It never lets up.

At a gathering in Iowa some time ago a mail-order man explained some of the system followed in the campaign of publicity. According to this explanation the mail-order house seeks the line of least resistance in its search for business. Whenever they can find a town in which the merchants are not active advertisers they flood that community with their literature. When they find a town in which the furniture dealer, for example, is afraid to use printer's ink they pay particular attention to the subject of furniture. They are searching for the weakest link in the chain of home defenses.

Something of this is explained by the conditions the writer saw in a mill town in northern Wisconsin. The local paper carried practically no local advertising when the size of the town was considered, and the stores of the town were but small affairs. In talking to one of the merchants he complained that more than $25,000 was sent from that community to the Chicago mail-order houses each month. "That is easily twice the amount that is spent in all the stores in this town put together each month," he explained. "Merchandizing don't pay in such a place as this."

A few hours later the writer was talking with the publisher of the local paper, and the conversation turned to local advertising, or rather the lack of it.

"I was very much tempted to accept a proposition which I received from one of the Chicago mail-order houses a few days ago," said the publisher. "I still have the proposition here on my desk. They offer me a cash contract at my regular display rates for 1,500 inches, to be used during the year, and in addition to the cash advertising they offer me a small commission on all the new business secured in this county during the life of the contract. They say their business in this county during the last 12 months was approximately $8,000 per month, and I would secure a small percentage on all business done over this amount during the next 12 months."

"Have you shown that proposition to the merchants of this town?" I asked.

"I have, and it didn't move them," he replied. "They simply say it don't pay to advertise. I would jump at the offer if it were not for the fact that I cannot bring myself to the point of doing that which I know will help to kill this community."

There was an illustration of mail-order methods. The wide-awake mail-order man proposed to reap a golden harvest from the field the very-much-asleep local merchant would not cultivate.

Does it pay to advertise?

The more than $200,000,000 that finds its way to the Chicago mail-order houses each year is garnered by a campaign of advertising. You, Mr. Local Merchant, claim, and rightly, that you can sell the same goods for the same, or less money, than the mail-order houses offer, but at the same time you complain because the mail-order man gets the business.

Why do they get it? Because they advertise.

They not only advertise, but they advertise in your field, and they advertise in your field because you do not. They select towns, or special lines where they do not have to meet the competition that is offered by local advertising, and they make advertising pay.

We want the people to trade at home; we want them to build up the home community; we want to see the dollars kept in circulation here that one and all of the local people may prosper. We do not want to see the fortunes of the city mail-order man built at the expense of the local community, but we know absolutely the value of publicity, and we know the mail-order houses will capture the dollars if the local merchants will not fight fire with fire; will not show the public what they can buy and at what price.

Let us go back to this northern Wisconsin town and see what opportunities the merchants there were sacrificing. It was a mill town, and in no way an agricultural community. There were not 20 farms within a radius of as many miles. The industry was lumber, and the money to run the mills came from the city. The nearly 1,000 employes were paid in city money, and with a little effort on the part of the merchants in that town this money might have been kept in the town. It might have been made to build a permanent prosperity. But no, the merchants left a wide field for the mail-order houses which they improved, and the money that might have built a town that would have stood after the lumber interests are gone and the mills are closed has been allowed to return to the city from which it came, and now every lofty pine that falls but drives another nail in the coffin of the town, and all because the merchants did not believe it would pay to advertise.

WRIGHT A. PATTERSON.

Intelligent advertising means "s icing the bulldog power and tenacity of the local press on the compe tition offered the home merchant by the catalogue houses. Intelligent ad vertising means the employment of mail-order methods in combating th e mail-order evil.

Child Turning Purple.

Mary Eighotz, three years old, of New York, is turning purple. The doctor says she is suffering with a disease known as purpura hemorrhagica. The child's mother first noticed the changing color three weeks ago. While bathing the girl she detected small purple spots on various parts of the body. Alarmed, she applied home remedies, but the spots continued to spread. The child's body presents the appearance of being tattooed. Almost the entire body is covered, with the exception of the face, which thus far has not been affected. While most of the time the blotches are of a mellow purple, they occasionally change to a deep plum color or a dull red. Some blotches are as large as a penny, others are no larger than a pinhead. The disease is probably caused by a rheumatic germ.

Only Believe.

Be not downcast if difficulties surround you in your heavenly life. They may be purposely placed there by God to train and discipline you for higher developments of faith. If he calls you to "toiling in rowing," it may be to make you the better seaman, and to lead you to a holier trust in Him who has the vessel and its destinies in hand, and who, amid gathering clouds and darkened horizon, and crested billows, ever murmurs the mild rebuke to our misgivings: "Said I not unto thee, that if thou wouldst believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God?"—Rev. John R. Macduff.

BARB WIRE REEL.

One Easily Made That Will Do Effective Service.

Here is a barb wire reel that one can wind barb wire on instead of an old barrel, which is slow work. We present a little drawing of one that can be easily made by an ingenious farmer. It is mounted on wheels, and can be drawn along by a man, while a boy steadies the handle to keep the wire from unwinding too rapidly and kinking. For winding up wire that is is taken off of a fence, the machine can either be pushed or pulled, going just fast enough to keep up with the wire as it is being wound on the reel. A little rack like this, says The Farmer, would be of considerable value to any one who has any amount of barb-wire fencing to wind.

INACCURATE SEED TESTING.

What the Germination May and May Not Show.

It is not at all certain that seed when sown in the open field will show the same amount of digestibility as when sown in seed testing boxes or between plates in the house and under ideal conditions of warmth and moisture. A great many experiments have been made to show what the germinating power of various seeds is, and it has been figured out that the results would be the same in the field as in the seed testers. It is interesting, therefore, to note that a comparison of results do not show the same percentage of seed germinating under the two conditions.

In some comparative tests reported 31 samples of seed of oats and wheat were tested in regular seed testers. The lowest germination was 49 per cent. and the highest 99 per cent. A like number of samples of the same seed were planted in the open ground at the same time, the samples being the same grain as those planted in the testers. One of the oat samples that had shown a germination of 94 per cent. when planted in the tester gave only 54 per cent. of germination when planted in the open field. Another lot gave in the tester a germination of 81 per cent., yet when sown in the open field it gave only 13 per cent. This was a most remarkable decline.

One of the samples of wheat seed gave 63 per cent. of germination when sown in the seed tester, but when sown in the field gave only 8 per cent. of germination. The poorest sample for field work gave 62 per cent. of germination when sown in the seed tester, but in the field gave only 4 per cent. of germination. This illustrates the fact that something besides germination tests need be looked for when figuring on what seed will do. Conditions in the field are much harder than in a germinating plate.

An investigation of this seed showed that it had been produced under bad conditions and probably lacked vitality. It had been injuriously affected by early fall frosts. Most of it had enough vitality to enable it to sprout under the perfectly favorable conditions found in a sprouting tray, but had not enough vitality to enable it to sprout when buried in the ground where the moisture supply would be too great or too little, the temperature too high or too low, and where the air would not have free access to the grain.

The germination tests may still be considered valuable, says Farmers' Review, but they are by no means conclusive, so long as they are conducted under ideal conditions. It is only rare that conditions in the open ground are ideal for the germination of seed.

FARM NOTES.

Do you lift or do you lean?

It is comfortable to lean upon a fat job.

Two family needs—good bread and good breeding.

Don't try to grind alfalfa meal with low power.

Yes, without doubt, the lime and sulphur wash is a good fungicide.

Don't stop for long stories or yet for short tales when the trees in your orchard are covered with scales.

If the spring is late and wet many a farmer will be tempted to go into his fields and plow before the land is in proper condition. But plowing that merely turns a wet slice of soil upside down is a damage to the land.

Health and the Garden.

The farmer who has a good garden has a healthy family as a rule. We remember being at a farmers' institute a few years ago when an aged physician was asked to make a few remarks. The first thing he said was: "I noticed all my life that I never got much money out of the family which was fed on fruit and vegetables."

CARE OF THE SICK ROOM.

Above All Things the Walls Should Be Kept Dry.

When the bedroom becomes a sick room there is an added reason why extreme precautions should be used to keep the room in a thoroughly sanitary condition.

Above all things, the bedroom should never be damp. It should be nice and dry, always warm and comfortable in winter, cool and airy in summer, and bright and sunny some parts of the day.

If there is any suspicion of dampness in a bedroom it is probably due, if there is wallpaper on the wall, to the absorption of water by the paper which frequently acts as a blotting paper and holds quantities of water in it.

The use of wallpaper on walls is to be deplored; it means disease, ill health and unhappiness. It is frequently the cause of lung trouble, not only because of its dampness but also because of its power to retain infection of many kinds.

The desired method of treating a bedroom wall is to tint it for the alabastined wall is a perfect wall. It never flakes off, chips or peels. It absorbs moisture and expels it, it opens the pores of the plaster and makes a room livable and breathable.

The floor in the bedroom should have light, cleanable, dainty rugs that can be easily shaken and a floor that is thoroughly oiled or varnished, that will not absorb moisture. The cracks in the floor should be thoroughly filled and covered. Woodwork in the bedroom should be attended to carefully, window sills should be thoroughly varnished or waxed, and the window casings kept in perfect order. The doors should be wiped off frequently as also should be all the standing woodwork in the bedroom, as the presence of dust on woodwork is a menace to health as well as an evidence of poor housekeeping.

PROPER MANNER OF READING.

Writer Sees Much Harm in Multiplicity of Books.

It seems to me that with the multiplication of books we are losing all sense of literature. Leisure and three books, a Bible, a Shakespeare, a Walt Whitman, might make a man truly wise if the seeds of wisdom were in him. I do not know even a wise man whose instinct for wisdom would not be deadened by the frequentation of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Books should be taken in doses no bigger than music or pictures; they are even harder to digest. There is more drunkenness in a book than in all the vineyards of France. A book may remake a man's soul. Books should be treated with reverence or cast out as dirt. They are in danger of passing out of the service of the temple into the "parcel delivery" of the grocer.

Nothing is gained by reading a book unless you give to that book more than it brings to you. All these people who read with their eyes only are fatally wasting their time. A book read superficially makes the reader more superficial, and to read for "information" is to gnaw at the bones of meat.—Arthur Symonds in London Saturday Review.

GRIT SAVED HIS LEG.

Ranchman Rode Far After Most Serious Injury.

Jack Farland, a ranchman living at the base of Pike's Peak, and whose post office is Midland, in this county, yesterday suffered a broken leg by being caught between a horse which he was riding and a timber wagon which he was attempting to pass while en route to this city, says the Cripple Creek Times. Farland displayed the greatest of pluck by riding on to Victor after suffering the injury, although he said upon arriving here that he felt several times that he must give up. Knowing, however, what difficulty would attend any attempt to dismount, and how well nigh impossible it would be for him to remount in the event that he succeeded in getting safely off his horse, the ranchman gritted his teeth and kept on. After having his leg set by a surgeon of this city, Farland collapsed and it was late in the afternoon before he was able to proceed homeward in a carriage, the accident having happened early in the morning.

SLEEP BROKEN BY ITCHING.

Eczema Covered Whole Body for a Year—No Relief Until Cuticura Remedies Prove a Success.

"For a year I have had what they call eczema. I had an itching all over my body, and when I would retire for the night it would keep me awake half the night, and the more I would scratch, the more it would itch. I tried all kinds of remedies, but could get no relief.

"I used one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura, and two vials of Cuticura Resolvent Pills, which cost me a dollar and twenty-five cents in all, and am very glad I tried them, for I was completely cured. Walter W. Paglusch, 207 N. Robey St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 8 and 16, 1906."

Animals at Church.

Animals attend a church service in Peru. Pigs, goats, cattle and poultry are brought by their owners to be blessed on All Souls' day, and the church is turned into a domestic menagerie. The seats are removed, and the animals can trot about or lie down where they will. After the ceremony the livestock is formally handed over to the monks, who receive little other payment for their services.

TIRED BACKS.

The kidneys have a great work to do in keeping the blood pure. When they get out of order it causes backache, headaches, dizziness, languor and distressing urinary troubles. Keep the kidneys well and all these sufferings will be saved you. Mrs. S. A. Moore, proprietor of a restaurant at Waterville, Mo., says: "Before using Doan's Kidney Pills I suffered everything from kidney troubles for a year and a half. I had pain in the back and head, and almost continuous in the loins and felt weary all the time. A few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills brought great relief, and I kept on taking them until in a short time I was cured. I think Doan's Kidney Pills are wonderful."

WOMAN HAS FINE RECORD.

Keeper of Lighthouse, She Has Saved Eighteen Lives.

Ida Lewis recently celebrated her fiftieth year as keeper of the Lime island lighthouse in the harbor of Newport, R. I. As a girl and woman Ida Lewis has lived a remarkable life. Her bravery and skill in handling a boat are well known and her fame is secure as the great woman life saver in the world, for she has the credit of having saved no less than 18 lives, most of her rescues having been effected in the face of extreme danger and in winter. As keeper of the Lime island lighthouse, to which post she was appointed in recognition of her bravery and record as a life saver on the death of her father, Miss Lewis has shown herself as careful and efficient as a man could be. She is one of the few women in such a position.

Sheep Raising in Australia.

The greatest industry of Australia is sheep raising, mainly for the sake of the wool, but also in part, of course, for the meat. Australia now ranks second among the great sheep-raising countries, Argentina being first with 92,000,000 sheep, Australia second with 72,000,000, and Russia third with 70,000,000. Only a few years ago Australia was first, possessing no less than 106,260,000 head of sheep. That was in 1891. Prolonged droughts were the cause of the destruction of many millions of Australian sheep, but since 1902 there has been an annual gain. Yet these sheep were not indigenous to Australia. They were first introduced in 1797, being of the Spanish merino species.

Carnegie Fund Participants.

The report of the Carnegie fund for the advancement of teaching shows that already 389 institutions have applied for a share of the proceeds, and that of these 52 have been placed on the accepted list, having met the conditions in regard to undenominationalism and academic standards. In the accepted institutions 45 professors have received more than $69,000 and the widows of some professors have been assisted. One-half the accepted colleges are in New England, New York and Pennsylvania, and, with one exception, the entire list lies in the northern belt of states.

HONEST MEDICINE

TRY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR STOMACH TROUBLE.

Convincing Evidence Supported by a Guarantee That Must Convince The Most Skeptical.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a doctor's prescription, used by an eminent practitioner, and for nearly a generation known as a reliable household remedy throughout the United States. Needless to say, no advertised medicine could retain popular favor for so long a period without having great merit and it is the invaluable curative properties of the pills that have made them a standard remedy in every civilized country in the world. Added to this is the absolute guarantee that the pills contain no harmful drug, opiate, narcotic or stimulant. A recent evidence of their efficacy is found in the statement of Mrs. N. B. Whitley, of Boxley, Ark., who says:

"I had suffered for a good many years from stomach trouble. For a long time I was subject to bad spells of faintness and lack of breath accompanied by an indescribable feeling that seemed to start in my stomach. Whenever I was a little run-down or over-tired, these spells would come on. They occurred frequently but did not last very long.

"I was confined to my bed for ten weeks one time and the doctor pronounced my trouble chronic inflammation of the stomach and bowels. Since that time I have been subject to the fainting spells and at other times to fluttering of the heart and a feeling as though I was smothering. My general health was very bad and I was weak and trembling.

"I had seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills mentioned in the newspapers and decided to try them. When I began taking the pills I was so run-down in strength that I could hardly do any housework. Now I could walk ten miles if necessary. Both my husband and myself think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine made and we always recommend the pills to our friends."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood and give strength and tone to every part of the body. They have cured serious disorders of the blood and nerves, such as rheumatism, sciatica, anaemia, nervousness, headaches, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance and many forms of weakness in either sex. They are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

SAVED BY A JEST

CASE IN WHICH DESPERATE PERIL WAS AVERTED BY READY WIT.

Doctor on an Ocean Liner Tells How He Escaped Death at the Hands of an Insane Fellow Voyager.

The liner Osiris, bound for Australia, was plowing her way through the Indian ocean at the rate of 17 knots an hour. It was midnight.

In a few minutes, however, Dr. Smith, a passenger, ascended from the lower regions, and commenced to pace up and down in the night air. The atmosphere of his cabin he had found too oppressive to be borne, and so he resolved, being unable to sleep, to enjoy a cigar on deck. Overhead, the stars shone and the masts and funnels of the liner loomed vast and spectral in the pale light of the moon.

Dr. Smith reflected how foolish he had been not to leave his berth earlier. What could be more enjoyable, since sleep was denied him, than solitude and a choice cigar on the deck of the good ship Osiris?

Suddenly he became aware of the fact that he was no longer alone. A dark figure appeared at the head of the companion ladder. Not wishing for company, Dr. Smith strolled slowly away, and leant over the starboard side of the liner. Suddenly he turned, and saw a fellow-passenger, who suffered from delirium tremens. "Hullo, doctor!" exclaimed the new-comer pleasantly. "Do you know what I am going to do? I'm going to wring your neck, and throw you overboard!"

Suiting the action to the word, the maniac seized Dr. Smith in a grip of iron.

Then ensued a frightful struggle. Realizing the awful peril which menaced him, the doctor struggled with despairing energy to bring his assailant to the deck, but in vain. He was like a child in the man's grasp.

Suddenly, with a superhuman effort, the maniac lifted Dr. Smith bodily in the air, and held him over the ship's side.

"Do you hear—do you hear?" he gasped. "I'm—going—to—drop—you—overboard!"

The doctor's heart almost ceased to beat. There was no one about except the steersman, but he was at the other end of the deck. Then an idea came to him.

"All right, old man," he replied, "but let's have a drink together first."

"Very well," replied the maniac, depositing the doctor on the deck, and strolling towards the bar.

To Encourage Thrift.

A New York man has just patented a device for the encouragement of thrift. It consists of a toy savings bank with a clock attachment. The clock is set in the face of the bank and cannot be wound unless a dime is dropped in the slot. As winding causes the dime to fall into the vault and the clock will run but 24 hours without rewinding, the contrivance assures the accumulation of 70 cents a week. The theory is that the necessity of depositing a dime every day will lead to slipping in other coins at odd moments and thus establish a habit of saving.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

King Edward a Pigeon-Fancier.

It may not be generally known that King Edward is fond of pigeon-racing, and has participated actively in it. His majesty has a big loft full of pigeons at Sandringham, where they are regularly and specially trained for long-distance races. Some years ago one of his birds won the biggest race of the year, the "Pigeon Derby," in a magnificent flight home from Lerwick.

SARSAPARILLA TIME.

Make Your Own Sarsaparilla or Spring Blood Medicine.

Mix one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake well in a bottle and take one teaspoonful after meals and again at bedtime. Any good druggist can supply these ingredients.

This is said to be a splendid Spring Blood Tonic and system renovator because of its gentle action in restoring the Kidneys to normal activity, forcing them to filter from the blood all impure matter and acids, destroying micro-organisms which produce ill health and sour blood.

Everyone should take something to cleanse the blood at this time of year, and the above simple prescription is the most highly indorsed of the hundreds of home remedies generally used.

Mix this yourself, then you will know what you are taking.

WOMEN IN NEW FIELDS.

British Smart Society Takes to "Hopping"—Woman Veterinary.

Work in the hop fields is the latest "rest cure" fad for London's smart set, and the luxurious society "hoppers" claim that a week's hopping is far better and more pleasant than a rest at any well-known health resort.

The tents of these well-to-do pickers are expensively furnished, and easy chairs, soft beds and up-to-date camping outfits are among their hopping appliances.

In Berlin there is a woman veterinary surgeon who is an official inspector of animals. She rides through the streets on the lookout for animals suffering from any disablement, and before reporting a horse as unfit for work, she examines its injuries and whenever possible applies remedies to alleviate its pain. She carries a leather case filled with bandages and other surgical appliances.

Day of Guillotine Ended.

Since the prison of La Rochette, where the French guillotine used to be kept, has been pulled down, the machine of death has been kept in a shed belonging to the state executioner. Since there is no place in Paris where it seems desirable to put up the guillotine, no more executions take place there. The president of the republic gets around the difficulty by commuting the death sentence to imprisonment.

FIND OUT

The Kind of Food That Will Keep You Well.

The true way is to find out what is best to eat and drink, and then cultivate a taste for those things instead of poisoning ourselves with improper, indigestible food, etc.

A conservative Mass. woman writes: "I have used Grape-Nuts 5 years for the young and for the aged; in sickness and in health; at first following directions carefully, later in a variety of ways as my taste and judgment suggested.

"But its most special, personal benefit has been a substitute for meat, and served dry with cream when rheumatic troubles made it important for me to give up the 'coffee habit.'

"Served in this way with the addition of a cup of hot water and a little fruit it has been used at my morning meal for six months, during which time my health has much improved, nerves have grown steadier, and a gradual decrease in my comfort." Name given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs "There's a Reason."

Women Avoid Operations

MISS ROSE MOORE

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N.Y. She writes:-

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

A LIBERAL OFFER TO KIDNEY SUFFERERS

REMARKABLE REMEDY MAILED FREE.

Every man, woman and child, everywhere, should benefit by this offer—for FAVORITE REMEDY is no ordinary prescription. It represents over thirty years of successful results—thirty years at bedsides—in laboratories—at hospitals.

In more than a million homes FAVORITE REMEDY is known. It has cured Kidney and Liver troubles not once but repeatedly—over and over again. Yet you may not have heard of it—or hearing you may have delayed or doubted.

This offer is simple: Just send your name and address (mentioning the nature of your sickness) to Dr. David Kennedy's Sons, Rondout, N. Y., and you will receive by prompt return mail a free trial treatment of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy—enough to prove in your case—in a plain sealed wrapper, all charges prepaid.

Will you accept this opportunity to learn how to be rid, forever, of all forms of Kidney Weaknesses and Liver Troubles—not only to get rid forever of the trouble but of the very cause that produced it?

At the First Sign of Backache—Take Heed.

Don't neglect a backache, for it is the cry of the kidneys for help—a warning you will do well to heed and without an instant's delay. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purifies the blood and dissolves the excess of uric acid in it, clears up the urine, restores the Kidneys and Bladder to their normal condition, and gently moves the bowels. It is better for Constipation than any pills. Better for the nerves than any sedative. Better for the weak than any tonic. No matter what the cause—no matter how long standing or how deep-seated the disease may be, this medicine is the surest to cure. FAVORITE REMEDY is purely vegetable. It contains no minerals in any form, no dangerous stimulants, no mercury or poisons. Children and invalids can take it with perfect safety. Send for free trial treatment today.

How to Tell if Your Kidneys Are Diseased.

One of the first symptoms of Kidney trouble is a slight pain in the small of the back; also a frequent desire to urinate, especially at night. A simple test of your urine will show if you have other bad symptoms, viz.: Place some urine in a glass tumbler and allow it to stand twenty-four hours, if there is disease, you will discover a sediment, or a milky, cloudy appearance, or particles afloat. If you have any of these symptoms it shows disease and demands treatment at once.

Kidney disease must not be trifled with, but can be cured if taken in time by using Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which removes the cause and stops any further trouble.

40,000 Drug Stores

sell Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy—have been selling it for 30 years. Any remedy which has stood the test of time like this deserves your confidence. It will bring you the relief and cure you seek and now is the time for you to try it. By acting today you guard against fatal delay. Be sure to mention this paper when writing.

SEE THE SOUTHWEST

One great advantage the Southwest has is its equable climate. Here farmwork goes on practically the year round and there is rarely ever a need of providing shelter for stock. The growing season is longer and another crop is frequently grown on the same land after the first has been harvested.

Go Southwest Now

On April 16th, May 7th and 21st you can see the Southwest very cheaply. Tickets are good 30 days and permit stop-overs. One very desirable feature of the trip via the M. K. & T. Ry. is the diverse route through Oklahoma—you can go through Indian Territory and return through Oklahoma City, or vice versa.

Cheap Trips

Round trip tickets to San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, etc., on the first and third Tuesdays of each month:

From Cincinnati	$33.75
From Cleveland	38.60
From Chicago	25.00
From St. Paul	27.50
From St. Louis	20.00
From Kansas City	20.00

To Oklahoma and Indian Territory the rates are less in many cases.

One way tickets at half the regular rate plus $2.00, e. g., from St. Louis the fare to San Antonio is $15.85; intermediate points in proportion.

Why not investigate the possibilities of this wonderful land? Take a trip in the next excursion and see for yourself. Write me to-day for full information, and ask for a copy of "The Coming Country."

The athletic club, after being closed since the memorable contest between Wm. Killinger and J. F. Sullivan, opened its doors Saturday evening to a full house. What was to be a six round contest between one of our town boxers and a Renovo man was stopped by manager W. R. Smith, in the second round and awarded to the local man on a foul. Both men were fresh at the end of the bout but were somewhat marked up about the face and shins. Manager Smith announces that there will be several more interesting bouts shortly. However he says the use of Driftwood conversation water is strictly forbidden on the premises. Ray says:

Chicago is noted for pork,
Rochester boasts of fine wrappers,
New York and Boston are away up in "G"
But "old Huntley" beats them all for scrappers

G. W. Starr held the stakes.

BLUE BELL.

Pneumonia's Deadly Work.

Had so seriously affected my right lung," writes Mrs. Fannie Connor, of Rural Route 1, Georgetown, Tenn., "that I coughed continuously night and day and the neighbors' prediction—consumption—seemed inevitable, until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, which in my case proved to be the only real cough cure and restorer of weak, sore lungs." When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against lung and throat troubles New Discovery, the real cure. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Too Long Winded.

The inhabitants of the Canary isles, finding themselves oppressed by famine, sent to the governor of Galicia one of their head men as an ambassador. They advised him not to lose himself in long winded talk. He promised and kept his word. He took with him a large number of sacks, and, arriving at the town where the governor was on the circuit, he opened one of them before him, saying only these words: "It is empty. Fill it."

The governor ordered this sack and the rest to be filled with meal, but he said to the speaker: "You had no need to tell us that the sack was empty nor that it was necessary to fill it. We should have readily guessed that. Another time be briefer in your talk."—Bon Vivant.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

THE STOMACH.

My but peoples' stomachs do cause a lot of trouble. I offered to wager some doctors in St. Paul, Minn., that one half of all sickness is caused by the stomach. After I assured them that my medicine did nothing but put the stomach in shape and they had spent a day listening to what people who called on me had to say, they had to agree with me. They heard people come in and tell me that for years they had been near the grave with Bright's disease, or lung trouble, or kidney complaint and all manner of diseases and that the New Discovery had cured them. Of course these people were mistaken, it was nothing but their stomachs. As a matter of fact when the stomach gives out most everything else is thrown out of order too.

C. H. POWELL.

When a person feels tired and dull and despondent, is loosing flesh and don't sleep well, has a poor memory, a bad taste in the mouth, a coated tongue, and other troubles he's liable to believe a lot of things are the matter with him. Nine chances to one it's his stomach. I've seen Cooper's New Discovery bring back health to too many people in just this shape to believe anything else. Here's a letter about it:

"I suffered for a long time without knowing just what was the matter with me. I seldom felt like eating. I lost greatly in weight. My digestion was extremely poor and when I did eat I invariably suffered afterward. I was constipated and frequently suffered from nerve racking, violent headaches. When I heard of what the Cooper remedies were doing for others I resolved to try them."

"Relief came with the first bottle. My appetite and digestion improved rapidly. I am no longer constipated nor do I have those dreadful headaches. I sleep well and am gaining flesh." C. H. Powell, 13 Harrison Addition. Duluth, Minn.

We are selling immense quantities of these medicines and our customers express great satisfaction.

Catarrh

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, cream like Petrolatum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc. surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but
